Tech talks for web devs

What is @WDCNZ?

WDCNZ is a highly technical discussion about cutting edge topics in the web world. Our presenters are fluent speakers of code, and are unafraid of it.

The day is filled with information about technical advances and challenges facing the web based software industry.

It's for people cutting code and loving every minute of it!

Why @WDCNZ? (If your boss needs some convincing)

World-class talent

The speakers at @WDCNZ are world renowned for being the best in their fields. Getting tips from them is hearing it straight from the horse's mouth.

Fostering community

By attending @WDCNZ I can meet other talented web devs in the industry, and form a network that I can bounce ideas around with, even after the conference.

Keeping sharp

It's important that I'm always at the top of my game. Hearing strategic insights helps keep me motivated, challenged and inspired to work with more reliability.

Looks good

Attending @WDCNZ says that you value your employees and also the future of the industry. It also shows me that I'm someone you're keen to invest in.

Value

Well after all that, $349 inc GST sounds like a pretty sweet price and there's also a group discount for 5+ people.
